

J. S. To Seize
Strikebound
Meat Plants
On Saturday

Washington, Jan. 23 (P) — The White House announced today the department of Agriculture will seize and operate strikebound meat packing plants on Saturday.

Press Secretary Charles G. Ross said the Agriculture Department will have the aid of the War Department "if necessary" and that the Agriculture Department will conduct the operations.

Ross declined to answer questions concerning his terse announcement, made to a hurriedly called news conference.

Preparing Order
Ross made the following oral statement:

"The government will seize the closed meat packing plants on Saturday, January 26.

"The necessary orders for the seizure are now being prepared by the Secretary of Labor.

"The seizure will be made by the Department of Agriculture, with the aid of the War Department if necessary. The plants will be operated by the Department of Agriculture.

"That's the whole of it at this time."

No Steel Action

A few minutes earlier a government official, who declined to be quoted, had indicated the seizure would be made Saturday, to allow further time to persuade striking CIO workers to return to their jobs under government operation. Labor Department officials have said that striking AFL workers had agreed to return if the government took over.

The administration still has no immediate plans for further action in the steel strike, Ross said.

Asked whether there were any plans for Henry Kaiser to be brought into the picture to help settle the steel dispute, Ross replied:

"I know of no such plans."

White House Conference
Last week Kaiser signed a contract with the CIO United Steel Workers Union for his California steel plant.

Chester Bowles, OPA administrator, was scheduled to talk with President Truman shortly after noon and Labor Secretary Schweikert had an appointment later.

Seizure of the meat packing plants would be the first such action in a major labor dispute since the current wave of big strikes started.

U. S. Not Wary
Of Jap Break
On Dec. 5, 1941

Washington, Jan. 23 (P)—Maj. Gen. Walter C. Short today gave congressional investigators evidence which he said showed that two days before Pearl Harbor the chief of army intelligence did not believe an open split with Japan was near.

The 1941 chief of intelligence was Maj. Gen. Sherman Miles.

Short, army commander at Pearl Harbor when the Japanese struck December 7, 1941, read into the record of the Senate-House inquiry his message which he said Miles sent to Panama on December 5, 1941.

"United States-Japanese relations strained. Will inform you if and when severance of diplomatic relations are imminent." The message caused a stir among members of the Senate-House investigating committee. Senator Lucas (D-Ill.) told reporters he thought it was "one of the most important developments yet."

Senator Ferguson (R-Mich.) said it was important in the inquiry to have messages Washington sent to other places than Hawaii. He said he message in question would have been most important in the cross-examination of Miles, who has been a witness.

WILL COLLECT USED CLOTHING HERE ON SUNDAY

Every resident of Gettysburg will be given an opportunity Sunday afternoon to contribute to the Victory Clothing Collection when fire trucks will make a town-wide collection of used clothing for shipment overseas to relieve suffering in war-torn countries.

The fire trucks, driven by firemen and manned by Boy Scouts and members of the Gettysburg Rotary and Lions clubs, will begin their collection at 1 o'clock from the engine house and will cover every street in town.

Plans for the collection were announced by Cloyd Shetter, chairman of the clothing collection committee from the Lions club, who is in charge of the campaign for clothes here. He said fire company officials have willingly offered full cooperation in the campaign by making two trucks available for Sunday's collection.

School Pupils Help

A truckload of clothes was donated last week by pupils at the Gettysburg parochial school and pupils at the High Street school also gave used clothing that filled several large cartons. Appeals for clothing are being made this week at the Meade, Lincoln and high schools.

Mr. Shetter said that he has contacted school authorities at Arendtsville, Biglerville, Cashtown and Bendersville and will see today schoolmen at Heidelsburg and York Springs to arrange for clothing collections by the pupils. The donated clothing will be brought to the collection center in the Epley machine shop in the middle of the first block of South Washington street.

Mr. Shetter asked local grocers and other merchants to "do their bit" in the clothing drive by saving large cartons and sending them to the clothing collection center for use in shipping the clothing gathered here to national headquarters.

A considerable quantity of clothing already has been collected at the local center, Mr. Shetter said.

New Oxford Truck In Hanover Crash

A trailer truck driven by J. R. Robinson, New Oxford, and an automobile operated by Mervin G. Havestock, Hanover R. D. 2, figured in a mishap Monday afternoon in Hanover. According to the police reports, Havestock was traveling north on Carlisle street at the time and when he applied his brakes to reduce the speed of his car due to a machine slowing down in front of him, the brakes locked. His car then slid on the icy street into the path of the trailer truck traveling south.

Havestock suffered minor injuries in the collision, including lacerations to his forehead. Both machines were badly damaged. The damage to Havestock's car is estimated by the police at $300 and that to the trailer truck was placed at $400.

3 COUNTIANS ENLIST IN ARMY

Three 17-year-old Iron Springs youths Tuesday underwent their final examinations for entrance into the U. S. Army after enlisting at the recruiting station at the local post office.

The young men left Iron Springs Sunday night determined to hitchhike into Gettysburg to enlist. Midway here they found that the hitchhiking was poor Sunday evening and called a cab, finishing their trip to Gettysburg in that fashion. They spent Sunday night in town and were waiting at the enlisting officer's desk when he arrived at the post office to open shop Monday morning.

One of the men, Donald E. Swisher, Iron Springs R. 1, a son of Mrs. Carrie L. Swisher, has two brothers in service. One brother, George, is in the navy and is now located in the Philippine Islands. He has seen 1½ years of service. The other brother, Calvin C., has been in the army for four years, and is now stationed at Leghorn, Italy. A graduate of the Franklin township consolidated school, Donald was employed at the Fairfield Shoe factory prior to enlistment.

The other two were Paul L. Patterson, son of Harry L. Patterson, Iron Springs R. 1, who attended Fairfield high school and worked for the Rev. John Gorman, and Andrew E. Reese, Jr., son of A. E. Reese, Sr., Iron Springs R. 1, who attended the consolidated school and was employed in the Fairfield Shoe factory.

SOROPTIMISTS INSTALL FIVE NEW MEMBERS

Mrs. George P. Eberhart, charter president, installed five new members of the local Soroptimist club at a formal dinner at Hotel Gettysburg on Tuesday evening—Mrs. Fred Faber, co-owner Faber's restaurant; Miss Kathryn Oiler, county librarian; Mrs. Hamilton Walker, Littlestown, school nurse; and Mrs. S. H. Higinbotham, Littlestown, co-owner of the Gift shop. Due to the illness of the fifth member, Miss Ellen Beard, technician at the Warner hospital, Mrs. Nevin Grieb, corresponding secretary, was installed as proxy.

Mrs. Frederic E. Griest, chairman of the Membership committee, served as toastmaster. Mrs. Fred Slegel led group singing with Mrs. Anne Bachensky at the piano. At the close of the installation ceremony the new members were presented with corsages and were officially welcomed into the club by Mrs. Guyon E. Buehler, president, as she presented them with copies of the club constitution and by-laws.

Mrs. David Biocher, a past president, spoke to the group on the five women delegates at the United Nations Conference and the two dozen women attached to the various delegations. She stated that Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt stood at the top of the list of the women, being acclaimed "for her charm and gracious poise and the conscientious work she is doing." She also stated that probably the next ranking woman there is Miss Ellen Wilkinson, Britain's Minister of Education.

Mrs. Harvey Raffensperger, past president, then gave an account of the life of "Wee Ellen" Wilkinson, whose activity for the laboring classes of Britain has earned her the title of "five feet of fight."

Six members of the Hanover Soroptimist club were present and Mrs. Bertha Coulson, their president, spoke briefly. Miss Virginia Myers, finance chairman, reminded the members of the public card party being held in the IOOF hall Friday night to raise funds to aid Chinese Student nurses. The dinner closed with the Soroptimist pledge.

STATE GUARD TO TRAIN AGAIN AT INDIANTOWN GAP

Troop "C" of the Pennsylvania Guard will participate in its second, and probably last, period of field training at Indiantown Gap Military Reservation from June 22 to July 6, it was announced today by Captain C. Arthur Brame, commanding officer of the Adams county unit.

The local cavalry troop will participate with some 5000 other officers and men in the 15 day period of intensive training to perfect themselves in the tactics and techniques necessary to maintain the organization as one of the most efficient state guards in the United States, Captain Brame said.

A communication from Maj. Gen. Milton G. Baker, commanding general of the State Guard, to the local troop points out that "this will probably be the last encampment of this volunteer force, which replaced the famous 28th Division. The 28th Division is expected to be reactivated on an expanding scale in 1947 and to resume its place in defense of the commonwealth. An opportunity will be extended to officers and men of the present Guard who can qualify by training and experience, to become members of the reorganized National Guard."

Need Several Recruits

Last summer, shortly after its activation as a guard unit the local troop took part in the annual encampment at Indiantown Gap. Previously the local unit was part of the Minutemen organization which was established at the start of the war to replace the National Guard. All members of the unit served in a purely volunteer capacity, without compensation except for the period of training at Indiantown Gap. As a result of its work Troop C won high praise from both battalion and regimental commanders.

The training period at Indiantown, according to plans being laid by Governor Edward Martin, Adjutant General Robert M. Vail and the Division staff, will include instruction in the basic duties of the soldier, rifle marksmanship, chemical warfare, reviews and ceremonies. An adequate program of sports, topped by a track meet for the championship of the division is being provided to meet recreational need of the guardsmen at the field exercises.

Captain Brame announced also that he has several vacancies remaining in the county troop and that it is desired to bring the unit to full strength in the next few weeks so that new men may receive several months' of recruit training prior to the maneuvers at Indiantown Gap.

4,000 Japanese Rescued After Ship Strikes Mine

Shanghai, Jan. 23 (P)—The dramatic rescue of nearly 4,300 Japanese from their sinking repatriation ship, the Enoshima Maru, was told today when the American freighter Brevard arrived jammed with 99 per cent of the survivors.

The ship sank rapidly after striking a mine 60 miles off the mouth of the Yangtze yesterday. In only 25 minutes, all the Japanese except about 20 killed in the explosion or in subsequent mishaps were transferred from the 6,000-ton vessel to the Brevard. It appeared likely that the rescue would set a record for speed in handling such a mass of people.

The Brevard's skipper, Lt. John L. Elliott of San Diego, Calif., said the rescue was accomplished with hardly a hitch through cooperation of the Japanese, whom he described as frightened but orderly.

The Enoshima Maru, carrying 4,296 Japanese men, women and children, sank within an hour and a half.

The 5,000-ton Brevard was trailing it about three and a half miles. Even

New Home Sought By Red Cross

The Adams county chapter of the Red Cross is looking for a new home.

By April 1 the chapter will have to vacate its present headquarters in the first floor of the Tupper building, next to the court house on Baltimore street, for a new tenant.

Mrs. E. S. Lewars, chapter chairman, said today: "Mr. Tupper (Attorney Raymond F. Tupper, owner of the building) has been very generous and we are sorry we can no longer remain in our present quarters.

"We are looking for new headquarters space in the central part of town. Several rooms will be needed, preferably on the first floor."

The chapter headquarters moved to the Tupper building from the court house about two years ago. Quarters in the county building, while never adequate, were rent free but cannot be considered now because of the greatly expanded volume of Red Cross services requiring more office space than the single room used at the court house.

NAVY OFFICER WILL RE-OPEN DENTAL OFFICE

After serving in the U. S. Naval Reserve since 1942, Dr. Fred B. Bryson, 438 Baltimore street, has returned to Gettysburg, and will reopen his office next Monday. Dr. Bryson was separated from the service with the rank of lieutenant commander December 12, and is on terminal leave, which expires February 11.

Dr. Bryson practiced dentistry here for 12 years before entering the service, and still retains his previous office location. The Gettysburg commander entered the service on active duty April 26, 1943. He was commissioned as a lieutenant in November, 1942.

He was stationed at Bainbridge, Md., and while there received special instruction and training in oral surgery and exodontia, which qualified him to become supervisor of one of the large dental dispensaries there. Following 18 months of duty at the dispensary, Commander Bryson was assigned to the USS Santee CVE 29, an aircraft carrier. As a member of the medical corps he saw duty in the Philippines, East China sea, at Okinawa, the evacuation of 1,000 Allied prisoners of war from Formosa and finally in the occupation of Japan, going ashore at Wakayama, Yokahama and Tokyo.

While at Okinawa, Comm. Bryson's carrier was one of two carriers to complete 106 days there, with 83 operational flight days to its credit, which set a record for carriers of all classes. The ship and all departments received a "well done" from (Please turn to Page 2)

Bank Deposits Increased $6,474,148 In 14 County Banks In '45, Survey Shows

Deposits in Adams county's 14 banks reached a new all-time high of $33,217,096.09 in 1945, according to the recently published annual statements prepared in response to "calls" from federal and state banking authorities.

This total represents an increase of nearly six and a half million dollars in the 12-month period in which counties also purchased U. S. War Bonds worth $6,855,116 in the two 1945 bond drives.

On December 31, 1944, bank deposits totaled $26,741,947.10. The figure for December 31, 1945, tops that sum by $6,474,148.99, a survey of the bank statements discloses. On the average each bank in the county increased its deposits by 24.2 per cent.

Added 12 Million in Two Years

Individually the increases ranged from 12 to 31 per cent with the majority of the banking houses boosting their deposits by between 20 and 30 per cent. In 1944 the average increase for the banks was 26 per cent.

The largest increase was reported by the Gettysburg National bank where total deposits passed the $9,000,000 mark, a gain of $1,902,311.44 over 1944. The increase at the First National bank of Gettysburg was $1,131,243.68, a jump of 29.6 per cent. The Gettysburg National's increase represented a 26 per cent rise.

Last year's jump in bank deposits in the county topped the 1944 increase of $5,510,205.03. In the last two years bank deposits in Adams county have climbed from $21,231,742.07—a two-year increase of almost $12,000,000. In the same two years counties bought war bonds totaling almost $17,000,000.

The banks whose deposits increased by 20 per cent or more during 1945 follow: East Berlin National, the First National of Gettysburg, the York Springs National, Arendtsville National, Gettysburg National, Farmers and Merchants bank of New Oxford, Biglerville National, Bendersville National, Farmers' bank of McSherrystown, Littlestown State, and the First National of Fairfield.

The figures used in these calculations do not include sums counties have invested in bank stock but are limited to the amounts held by the 14 banks on demand, time, federal and state deposits.

Total deposit figures for the county banks follow with the first column giving the total reported at the close of business in 1944 and the second figure for the corresponding date in 1945:

ANCIENT LOVES AND HATES ARE IRKING SPAIN

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
AP World Traveler

Madrid, Jan. 23.—It is an astonishing thing that the loves and hates and irreverence and escapades of a man who died more than 100 years ago still should provide choice morsels for active gossip in Madrid, and yet that is exactly what is happening in the case of the immortal Spanish painter, Francisco Goya.

In fact, there never has been a time since Goya first achieved notice as an artist when this extraordinary personality—alive or dead—hasn't been in the limelight. And if you want proof of present interest just join in cafe conversations, or go to the Prado museum which houses so many of his works and see the crowd that flocks to study his art, specially the scandalous paintings and etchings which he did with tongue in cheek while his victims tore their hair.

Exhume Old Body

The latest incident to set gossip humming afresh has been the exhumation of the body of the fourteenth duchess of Alba, the famous Spanish count beauty who died mysteriously in 1802. This exhumation was ordered by the present duke to determine two moot questions—whether the duchess died of poison and whether she was the model used by Goya for his painting "A Madrid Nude" which hangs in the Prado.

The duchess and the artist were great friends and some historians say there was a romance between them. Be that as it may, many experts claim that despite a striking likeness to the woman in the picture she was taller than the model employed by Goya.

Doctors still are examining the beautiful duchess' remains and are expected to make known their findings almost any day.

Meantime "A Madrid Nude" is surrounded by admiring crowds. They speculate over the fascinating story that Goya, having heard that the duchess' husband had learned about the portrait, painted overnight another picture of the duchess fully clothed and showed this when the duke arrived to demand an explanation. Whether there be any substance in this ancient story, the fact remains that hanging opposite the nude in the Goya room of the Prado is an exact duplicate—except that the lady is clothed. It is only in comparatively recent years that these two pictures were put on public display.

Another Goya Prank

This mystery of the duchess and the naughty picture is a fitting companion to another Goya volcano in a Madrid suburb. This is the scene painted by the artist in the cupola of the little chapel of San Antonio de la Florida in 1798 at the request of King Charles IV, on whose property the church stood.

The painting has a religious theme and contains about 100 life-size figures of men, women and children. Long after the work was done and accepted, art experts astounded the world by declaring that many of the figures were portraits of what a Spanish newspaper friend of mine euphemistically refers to as "happy girls of the town" and some of the men were notorious characters. This was not the first time that Goya had played a similar prank.

NAVY OFFICER

Admiral Kinkaid for the evacuation of POW's from Formosa before the occupation of the island by Allied troops.

Prisoners Poorly Fed

"It is my opinion," Comm. Bryson said, "that if these prisoners on Formosa had been fed half what we feed prisoners of war in this country, they would have thought they were having Thanksgiving every day. Their main diet consisted of 14 ounces (about the size of a baseball) of rice a day. Many of the prisoners had spent over 30 months in confinement. Nearly all prisoners suffered from malaria, dysentery, beri-beri and malnutrition."

The Santee returned to San Diego November 11, and Comm. Bryson was relieved of his duties December 1, reporting to the Philadelphia navy yard for release December 12. He wears the following ribbons: the American theater, Asiatic-Pacific area, bronze star, Philippine Liberation with one bronze star and the Victory medal.

Dilemma Of Where To Live Breeds Rackets In Hong Kong

By HAL BOYLE

Hongkong, Jan. 22 (P)—Civilians weren't too happy about selection of Hong Kong as Britain's chief naval base in the Pacific. They like the protection of the fleet's guns, but they don't like competing with naval officers in finding flats and homes.

There is still a serious shortage in living quarters as the result of wartime bombing and looting. Many Portuguese and Chinese families are compelled to live in single rooms and no announcement has been made as to when British officers will be allowed to bring out their wives.

Hotels are packed and guests are crowded four to a room. Many are forced to bunk on army cots with only one blanket for warmth.

Rigid regulations have frozen rent scales at prewar levels, but landlords have borrowed the "key money" institution from Shanghai. Before new tenants can take possession of an apartment or house they must slip the landlord from $75 to $200 or more above the rent in order to get the key.

Buildings Looted

Authorities find it difficult to cope with this shady custom and indignant tenants who refuse to pay "key money" usually find they have to look elsewhere for quarters. It is as difficult to find them here as it is in New York or Washington.

Each week new lights shine from a few more houses on "The Peak," the colony's elite residential district, but many of these battered houses have been so thoroughly looted of fixtures that it will take months to restore them. Building materials of any kind are extremely scarce.

One group of five enterprising young naval officers received permission to move temporarily into the residence of a wealthy Chinese surgeon. They scouted around and borrowed glass panes from the army to replace windows and managed to find enough beds and odd pieces of furniture to make the place liveable. But they did their job too well.

"Now the owner wants to move in himself and throw us out," they mourned.

Believe It or Not

Old army men will find it hard to believe, but people line up here for a chance to buy corned beef. It's quite a delicacy to stomachs still foreshortened by wartime rationing.

This morning a crowd of 500 civilians, mostly Chinese, waited for hours for a store to open that was selling six pound cans of corned beef for six Hong Kong dollars—$1.50 in American money. Police had to be called to keep order.

"Most of these people don't want the corned beef to eat," complained one policeman. "The Chinese just take it out and sell it on the black market for three times what they paid for it. And there's no way we can stop them."

You live by old rackets in Hong Kong. These people were doing it by standing in line.

Strike May Settle Argument On Smoke

Pittsburgh, Jan. 23 (P)—If the steel strike lasts long enough, scientists working for the city hope to settle a long-time argument—whether the steel mills or private homes contribute most to the soot which makes Pittsburgh the smoky city.

A machine will test conditions now while the steel mills are idle and their stacks no longer belch forth smoke. Later, when the strike is over, further tests will be made, and a comparison worked out.

Just Folks

By Edgar A. Guest

HOME REMEDIES
Time was my mother brewed for me
A bitter draught of senna tea,
Or slippery flaxseed when I had A cold particularly bad.

I fancied, as I tossed it off,
The cure more cruel than the cough,
But from the "doctor book" she'd thumb,
Were tortures even worse to come.

With loving fingers off she pressed
A mustard plaster on my chest,
A blistering splootch of fury pure,
To prove what mortals can endure.

I wonder what's become of these Old-fashioned, faithful remedies?
Have one and all been thrust aside
For forms of sulfanilimide?

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS
GENERAL PATTON

We shall never be too far away from the last rites, and the little cross, among the thousands that mark the graves of our brave boys,
and that of Gen. George S. Patton, to take a few lessons from the life
of this great soldier and leader.

First of all, he was a soldier. He never let anyone forget this fact.
And he took pride in calling to the attention of his men that he was an American, and impressing upon their minds that their greatest heritage was that they, too, were Americans, fighting for the very things that gave America her freedom. He was fighting for America, but in a larger sense he was fighting for free England and every liberty-loving nation—and fighting to give this freedom to all nations.

He was dogged, undefeatable. And he made his men feel this. He was always a jump ahead of his enemy.
Said Senator Barkley: "He did not send his men on—he led them." He was absolutely fearless. Failure wasn't in his make-up. He insisted upon discipline, sometimes harshly toward those under him, but he took it from others himself, as well.

I followed his career from the time
he landed in Africa, as the one man who could not be defeated. He never was. History will record him as one of the greatest military leaders who ever lived. His fifth star is the gratitude of a free world.

Yet, withal, General Patton was intensely human and understanding.
He was greatly loved by those who really knew him. And they gladly died for him, for they knew they were fighting in a great cause and that he would as willingly die with them. Now he lies with them, as he would have wished. His small errors of speech and act now melt away
to give place to those immortal qualities that do not die with physical death. General Patton believed in God, and prayed to Him.

May we all, in peace, emulate that fighting heart, and ever be proud citizens of all mankind, better for having had in the world a man who was never afraid and who loved his country, and its ideals, as an undying
heritage.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Great Literature Lives!"

Few Army Hospitals Suitable For VA Use

Washington, Jan. 23 (AP)—Most of the army's wartime hospitals are not suited for use by the Veterans Administration and comparatively few of them will be taken over by that agency, Gen. Omar N. Bradley told a House Appropriations subcommittee in testimony made public on Tuesday.

The Veterans Administration submitted a list of 10 army hospitals
he said he believed can be used for veterans and 35 which cannot.

"Many of those hospitals are of frame construction, 100 per cent temporary," he told the subcommittee in testimony, on the independent offices appropriation bill for the 1947 fiscal year.

FARMERS TOLD 1946 ACREAGE TO BE HIGHER

Harrisburg, Jan. 23 (AP)—U. S.
Secretary of Agriculture Clinton P.
Anderson, congratulating agriculture for making the first tangible postwar move toward full production, says American farmers have set 1946 production goals which call for nearly 358,000,000 acres of cultivated field and hay crops.

This is 10,000,000 acres above the average in 1945, he told a dinner
last night honoring the late George Washington Carver, negro scientist. It was held in connection with the U. S. Agricultural Adjustment Administration's 1946 goals adjustment conference.

"We must push ahead on all fronts with research, credit, marketing, transportation, housing, better family living, and all the rest of them in considering the future of agriculture as a part of our national economy," Anderson said.

He urged a national program "to stabilize and improve consumption of farm products."

Says Balance Needed
Such a program, he said is necessary "not only to assure the nation of being well-fed but to help maintain the whole balance of our economy—to avoid periodic and disastrous retreats in production and employment."

U. S. Sen. Joseph F. Guffey told the AAA audience "there is something wrong when the American farmer has to work 16 hours a day to earn a living."

"I think that if we can continue to develop our agricultural science on the one hand, and on the other can end the exploitation which has restricted employment of electricity and modern machinery on the farms," he said, "we will begin to see a new era for the farmer, in Pennsylvania and everywhere else."

PICKETING CASE GOES TO COURT

Pittsburgh, Jan. 23 (AP)—Falling to agree after two days' discussion on the nature of picketing permissible at strike bound local plants of Westinghouse Electric Corp., the company and the CIO-Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers union went into court today to settle the point.

Westinghouse seeks an injunction placing limitations on picketing, alleging crowds surround plant gates making maintenance workers afraid to enter.

The union has asked that the petition be dismissed on the ground that the company's averments are insufficient to give the court jurisdiction.

"They must allege there is a seizure and holding of the plant," argued Attorney David Scribner of New York, general counsel for the union. "There is no allegation of an actual fact of seizure."

John C. Bane, Jr., attorney for the company, contended the union contracts provided that "under no circumstances shall this union commit any act of coercion or intimadation against any employee of this company."

Claim Act Violated
Bane said "during the last week
the union has surrounded our plants
with multitudes of pickets. x x x
It is our position that under the Act of 1937, if the union disobeys provisions of a contract, it loses the benefits of the act."

The injunction hearing was called for Monday but the court granted additional time for the company and the union to confer in hope of reaching an out-of-court settlement.

When that failed, Judge Walter
P. Smart announced he would begin taking testimony to aid him in ruling on the dismissal motion.

Painfully Burned, Vet Rescues Kiddies

Meadville, Pa., Jan. 23 (AP)—A 25-year-old discharged veteran, painfully burned in an explosion, groped
through his burning home Sunday night to rescue his two small children.

William G. Main, about 25, was taken to Meadville hospital where attendants said today he was resting comfortably. His brother, Ralph, said that Main was using kerosene to start a fire in the kitchen stove
when the fluid ignited, burning him about the legs. Despite his injuries, Main carried a five-year-old son outside to safety, then went back into the flaming home to save his daughter, aged two. The four-room dwelling was destroyed.

Tuesday morning for the state of Florida, where they will remain indefinitely.

Mrs. Roy Derr, of Burnham, is visiting Mr. and Mrs. C. William Ziegler, of York street.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul C. Carling announce the birth of a daughter,
Anna Katherine.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Ziegler, North Washington street, announce the birth of a daughter.

Mrs. William L. King, East Middle street, recently attended the funeral of Mrs. Francis Gebhart in Conowingo.

Murray Sheads has returned to his home on West Middle street after spending several weeks in Littlez.

Two Killed In Plane Crash

The occupants of this monoplane, Dr. Wesley M. Syfritt, 38, and Harriette Van Lovingham, 21, were killed when it developed motor trouble and crashed in Los Angeles. Further tragedy was averted when the plane narrowly missed a residence and plummeted into the driveway from which the family car had moved seconds before. (AP Wirephoto.)

CHARGE DEPUTY WITH SLAYING MARSHALL IN ADVISORY POST

San Bernardino, Calif., Jan. 23 (AP)—
Deputy Sheriff Arthur L. Eggers of Temple City, 52-year-old son of a former San Francisco sheriff, was booked for investigation of murder today after hours of grilling about the mutilation slaying of a woman whose headless, handless body was found in a mountain canyon near here Jan. 2.

Undersheriff Arthur Jewell of Los Angeles said the body had been tentatively identified as that of Mrs.
Dorothy Eggers, 42, reported missing by her husband on the day the gruesome discovery was made.

Eggers, a mild-mannered clerk in a Los Angeles county sheriff's substation, stoutly denied his guilt, declaring:

"I wouldn't hurt a hair on her head. I wouldn't kill her. I wanted her there to raise the children."

The couple, married 18 years, had two adopted children, Marie, 19, and Lorraine, 11.

Most of the questioning took place in Los Angeles under direction of Eggers' superior, Sheriff Eugene W.
Biscailuz, and Sheriff Emmett L.
Shay of San Francisco.

Eggers was brought here early today, and Shay said he would be taken later to the secluded ravine in Waterman canyon where the woman's torso, shot twice, with head and hands neatly severed, was found by a passing motorist. The head and hands have never been recovered.

Eggers is the son of the late Frederick Eggers, sheriff of San Francisco 30 years ago. He had been a sheriff's employee since 1929.

rens.

stationed at Vancouver, British Columbia, has concluded a furlough
with his mother and has remitted
for two more years of service.

Costello, Baltimore, spent Friday

Lightner. Mr. Lightner is erecting a small house on his property, which

W. Lightner, known as the Daywalt place.

Mrs. John Reese, Virginia Mills.

ing some time in Florida.

POOL PUZZLE

St. Paul, Minn., (AP)—The shocking mystery at the YMCA swimming pool has been solved. Swin-ners touching a brass guard rail received mild electric shocks. Power company experts discovered overdosing of chlorine gas to reduce pool bacteria count caused an acid condition that made the tank a virtual wet battery.

CONGRESS COOL ON DRAFT PLAN

Washington, Jan. 22 (AP)—Congress showed little inclination Tuesday to speed action on President Truman's three-point military program.

Members looked with particular skepticism at Mr. Truman's request in his state of the union message for an extension of the draft act beyond its May 15 expiration date.

Aside from saying he has no plans for early consideration of the extension, Chairman May, (D-Ky.),
of the House Military Committee, withheld comment on the President's plan, not only for the draft continuance, but for merger of the army and the navy and for universal military training.

But May's colleagues on the committee said privately they see little chance for action on the draft law
before the end of March as requested by the President.

Training Bill First
Chairman Elbert D. Thomas, (D-Utah), said his Senate committee will examine all facts "in the next 60 days" but added in an interview:
"I am certain that we will not need the large numbers of men for occupation that most people think we will need."

May indicated that his House committee will finish hearings on universal training before it takes up the draft law. The hearings, suspended just before Christmas, are scheduled to be reopened next month.

Even the most vigorous supporters of universal training, however,
don't expect the committee to follow the President's request for a year of continuous training. They are willing now to settle for a four-months' program, supplemented by ROTC or National Guard service.

Probe Of Ousted Judge Nears End

Washington, Jan. 23 (P)—The investigation by a House Judiciary committee into the conduct of former Federal Judge Albert W. Johnson, Lewisburg, Pa., is nearly over, a spokesman reports.

The committee was ordered by the House to probe Johnson's 20-year career on the bench of the Pennsylvania middle district court.

Meantime, a spokesman for the Department of Justice said the government may soon bring the 73-year-old ex-jurist to trial in Scranton (Pa.) on charges he conspired to obstruct justice and defraud the United States. Johnson, three of his law partners and six other persons were indicted several months ago on the conspiracy charges.

State Guard Plans Training At Gap

Harrisburg, Jan. 23 (P)—The 5,000-man Pennsylvania State Guard, wartime replacement of the former Pennsylvania National Guard, will have its field training at Indian-town Gap military reservation June 22 through July 6, Adjutant General Robert M. Vail reported today.

All five infantry regiments, the Engineer battalion, the Cavalry squadron and special troops will train at the same time, Vail added.

This may be the last summer encampment for the State Guard. Plans are pending now for reorganization of the Pennsylvania National Guard as soon as Congress adopts its postwar military policy.

MONKEY BUSINESS
Portland, Ore., Jan. 23 (P)—Sgt. John L. Vaskes, of Bismarck, N. D., says the clothing shortage is really getting tough—and his pet monkey will bear him out. Vaskes visited a night club and took his monkey along. While Vaskes was dancing, somebody removed the monkey's wool suit.

BIG 3 DIVIDE GERMAN FLEET

London, Jan. 23 (P)—Remnants of the German fleet, once a powerful factor in world affairs, have been divided among the victorious Big Three—Britain, Russia and the United States.

"Operable surface units," of the Nazi navy, amounting to 1,759 vessels, together with 30 submarines, are being split up on a share and share alike basis, a tri-power communiqué said last night.

The action leaves Germany without the vestige of a combat fleet. A British source said the German merchant fleet also would be divided up later, although fishing vessels will not be taken.

Involved in the split-up were two cruisers, 30 destroyers and torpedo boats, 48 torpedo ships and 1,679 other units, including mine sweepers and harbor patrol boats. All of Germany's battleships were sunk during the war and the British disclosed last night that 100 surrendered German U-boats were scuttled last November.

Each nation, in addition to 10 submarines will receive:

U. S. Gets Prinz Eugen, United States—The 10,000-ton cruiser Prinz Eugen, seven destroyers and torpedo boats, 12 depot ships and 560 other units.

(In Washington, State Department officials said they could give no indication when the identity of the ships allotted would be announced. The Prinz Eugen, en route to Boston for the Navy Department described as experimental, last night was reported speeding to the assistance of the crippled troop ship Frederick C. Hicks 1,000 miles east of New York.)

Russia—The 6,000-ton cruiser Neuzberg, 10 destroyers and torpedo boats, 15 depot ships, and 507 other units.

Britain—Thirteen destroyers and torpedo boats, 21 depot ships and 612 other units.

OPA Drops Controls On More Articles

Washington, Jan. 23 (P)—Price controls on all games and many toys will be suspended indefinitely beginning January 28, the OPA announced today.

At the same time controls on 24 miscellaneous commodities, most of them minor food products, will be dropped.

The exemption on toys applies to all types except so-called "wheel goods," such as wagons longer than 18 inches, tricycles, velocipedes and children's automobiles.

Controls will be retained on larger wheeled toys, OPA said, "until the danger of price increases and of diversion of still-scarce metal and rubber is past."

The list of miscellaneous commodities from which ceilings are being removed includes such canned foods as sweet potatoes, parsnips, rutabagas, turnips, sauerkraut juice and cabbage.

Among other items are fresh hot-house lettuce, imported snuff, cigar cuttings and clippings, frozen clams and oysters, and ice cream sandwich wafers.

Camden, N. J., Jan. 23 (P)—De- tective Capt. Gus Koerner said today he is holding two men who have confessed they obtained $5,000 in 13 safe robberies in south Jersey, Altoona, Bethlehem and Harrisburg, Pa.

Koerner said charges of breaking and entering and larceny have been placed against James J. Christy and Albert P. Mickens, both of Camden. He said both have prison records.

Koerner said both men, except for one case, have named the exact amount of money they obtained from each safe—including $400 from the Coco Cola plant at Altoona, $76 at an unnamed Altoona gasoline station, $500 from the Coco Cola plant in Bethlehem and an unspecified sum from the Cloverdale Bottling company, Harrisburg.

Kidnapt Baby Is Sold For Five Pesos

Manila, Jan. 23 (P)—In this city where an undernourished child brings at least nine pesos ($4.50) in the black market, a kidnapped baby girl recently sold for five pesos.

Pacita Go 13-months-old daughter of a well-to-do San Fernando, Pampanga, attorney, recently was stolen from her crib.

Manila detectives found the baby in the shack of a fruit peddler, Marcela Mercado Y do Anonas.

The fruit vendor told police she had bought the baby from a young woman for five pesos; after all, the baby's clothing was worth more than that on the black market, police noted. Officers said the baby had received excellent care.

WIFE IS TRIED AS ACCESSORY

Tunkhannock, Pa., Jan. 23 (P)—Prosecutor Robert W. Trembath told a jury trying auburn-haired Florence Mae Randall he would try to prove the 34-year-old woman agreed to conceal the facts of her husband's slaying last Memorial Day.

Mrs. Randall was placed on trial yesterday charged with being an accessory after the fact in the shooting of boat concessionaire Charles Randall. Lumberjack Kenneth Ferrell, 31, was sentenced to life imprisonment for the killing.

Opening the Commonwealth's case, Trembath told the jury of four women and eight men he would attempt to show Mrs. Randall furnished aid to Ferrell after she knew her husband had been murdered and that a close mental bond existed between Ferrell and the woman.

Initial testimony centered around the scene of the slaying in a lonely wooded area at Sugar Hollow. Heber Bellas stated he repaired a tire for Ferrell about an hour after the time of the shooting while other witnesses told of seeing a greyish-green car near the death scene.

She was thinking now of how that trip to Kentucky began—how, in spite of her disturbed emotions over Chris, and her mother's wedding, it had stretched before her like an enchanted journey into some delightful unknown world. It had been an enchanted journey that led her to Burk Angus, but she could see now that tragedy had always been lurking in the shadows, stalking along the way, until finally the culmination had come in Barbara's death.

Chris had insisted on taking her to the theater last night and to a very gay night spot afterwards. She had been more depressed than ever when she got home.

Chris said, "I must say I think you could show a little more appreciation of my efforts at entertainment!"

She felt very tired, and suddenly, very old. She smiled wanly. "I'm sorry, Chris—it was kind of you to try, anyway. I guess I'm just sort of—not feeling very well."

"We shouldn't have let you go away!" he said crossly.

She had asked rather suddenly, "Where did mother go anyway, Chris?"

He had seemed to hesitate a moment before he answered, "Somewhere out of town."

"I know that, but suppose we wanted her rather suddenly."

"Well, I imagine Crosby would know where to reach her."

She thought it rather odd that Laura should have gone away without telling either Edith or Chris exactly where she had gone. But then people were always doing odd things these days, it seemed.

Enchanted Journey

By Helen R. Woodward

Chapter 30
Night was beginning to fall as Edith made her way across the park toward home, an early nightfall that presaged the coming autumn.

It had not been a happy afternoon for Edith. She had been completely at loose ends. Of course there were a dozen people she could have called up, but she had preferred to be alone.

What was she to do with her life? A few more days like this and she'd end up in the mad house! Tomorrow, she decided, she'd begin her search for a job. Chris and Laura would probably object, but she'd have to decide the matter for herself.

She'd had a letter from her Aunt Josie that morning which had started off a train of thoughts concerning things best forgotten. Gallant Lady's colt seemed to miss her. Old Eugenia talked about Edith all the time. Josie wished she might be at Roselands for her wedding. The place was utterly desolate without Barbara—and as for poor Whit, Dr. Bennett said something would have to be done to cure him of the mad obsession for his son. It was going to be bad for the little boy to be the object of such adoration when he grew older. Whit rarely left the house now and was so much under foot that he made a nuisance of himself.

The letter did not mention Burk Angus.

She was thinking now of how that trip to Kentucky began—how, in spite of her disturbed emotions over Chris, and her mother's wedding, it had stretched before her like an enchanted journey into some delightful unknown world. It had been an enchanted journey that led her to Burk Angus, but she could see now that tragedy had always been lurking in the shadows, stalking along the way, until finally the culmination had come in Barbara's death.

Chris had insisted on taking her to the theater last night and to a very gay night spot afterwards. She had been more depressed than ever when she got home.

Chris said, "I must say I think you could show a little more appreciation of my efforts at entertainment!"

She felt very tired, and suddenly, very old. She smiled wanly. "I'm sorry, Chris—it was kind of you to try, anyway. I guess I'm just sort of—not feeling very well."

"We shouldn't have let you go away!" he said crossly.

She had asked rather suddenly, "Where did mother go anyway, Chris?"

He had seemed to hesitate a moment before he answered, "Somewhere out of town."

"I know that, but suppose we wanted her rather suddenly."

"Well, I imagine Crosby would know where to reach her."

She thought it rather odd that Laura should have gone away without telling either Edith or Chris exactly where she had gone. But then people were always doing odd things these days, it seemed.

The lights were coming on in the shop windows as she turned into her own street. They were like little pools of brilliance on the sidewalks. She was glad that her mother was coming home tonight. She still had faith in her mother to believe that Laura would help her work out the solution to her life. She had been disappointed because Laura had seemed to have no word of comfort or encouragement for her the other night. But she had to believe that if everyone else in the world failed her, Laura would never let her down!

She turned into the doorway of the apartment building, took the elevator and reached her floor quickly. She stopped in the foyer to look over the mail, still hoping that in spite of everything a letter might come one day. She'd keep on looking until at last that hope died and she would accept the truth that Burk did not mean to write, ever.

It was growing dark in the living room. Dabney had not lighted the lamps yet, but the tall man who stood in the curve of the window was plainly visible. She stopped abruptly. This man was too tall for Chris!

Her heart began to beat in hard, thudding jerks that shook her body furiously. Her tongue felt dry against the roof of her mouth. Had the madness she dreaded really overtaken her?

Burk Angus said very gently, "Edith, my darling—don't be alarmed. It's really I—"

He came and took her hand in his. Even in the gloom she could see that his eyes were pleading. "I've been such an awful fool, Edith! But I just can't stand it without you! Oh, darling, I hope you feel that way, too!"

A rush of such delightful warm feeling flowed over her that she caught her breath at its loveliness. "Burk! If—if it's really you—how did you happen to come?"

"Your mother brought me. She made me see that pride is silly—and that nothing is big enough to keep two people apart—if they really love each other!"

Her mother! The tears flowed unchecked down Edith's cheeks. No—Laura would never let her down!

There were a lot of questions that would have to be asked and answered, but they would have to wait. Now it was enough to know that Burk's arms were around her, to feel the breathless ecstasy of his nearness, to know that he would always be close beside her, the answer to every dream her heart had hoped for. She had been thinking about that enchanted journey on which she had started that day, which now seemed so long ago—but in this moment she knew that her enchanted journey had just begun!
